This movement is the most extensive Christian network in Greater London at the moment; working together across our culture, class, colour and creed barriers.

Dr Jonathan Oloyede, Converner of GDOP London

The Mayor said: "I'm delighted to be joining thousands of Christians of all denominations and backgrounds, united in common purpose in the most important act of Christian worship - the act of prayer. So much of the good that is done in London is done by people of faith. I salute these acts of service, and commend all those who put their faith in action to effect positive change in our city and beyond."

London Mayor Boris Johnson who attended both the West Ham and Millwall Stadium Events.

"Global Day of Prayer is a fantastic event. It attracts a very large number of people coming together with tremendous exuberance and a very strong sense of prayer and worship as well. For me it's the basis for future service to the community. What I want to see is more people coming to serve their communities from the starting point of prayer and worship. That's the kind of celebration we will be taking part in at the Global Day of Prayer."

Stephen Timms MP for Eastham, Shadow Financial Secretary to the Treasury.

I was there at West Ham. I was in the stands at Millwall. And now we're planning for Wembley. We long to see God's people in their tens of thousands, together, praying, worshipping and opening God's word. It can only be good news for our nation. The situation in our nation is too serious, yet the opportunities are too great for us not to be anything other than united. The labels don't matter – we are God's family. We come together to bring a smile to heaven and see change here on earth."

Steve Clifford, Evangelical Alliance General Director

We're doing all we can to play our part in The National Day of Prayer and Worship and we're encouraging all our people to participate in what I think will be a huge catalyst for a move of God in our nation.

John Glass, General Superintendent, Elim

I'm completely behind the National Day of Prayer and Worship. Prayer changes things and I pray that it will be a high water mark in British Christian history and that the UK will never be the same again.

R.T. Kendall

As GOD TV we hope that we can play a major part in supporting and promoting this National Day of Prayer and Worship. It's key that as the body of Christ we come together to stand as one here across the UK crying out to the Lord and praising Him believing Him for great things across our land.

Fergus Scarfe, UK and Ireland Director, God TV

It will bring people back together and ensure that we make a statement in our nations that we as Christian are not hiding behind a bush, but we are prepared to stand together and to actually pray for our nations and see a mighty move of God.

UCB want to partner with this initiative because it's important for us to actually make sure that we unite our heart as a media organisation making sure that we support them with everything that we actually have and therefore we are proud to be their media partner.

David L'Herroux, UK Managing Director, UCB

Soul Survivor believes very strongly in the power of young Christians uniting in prayer. Therefore we are encouraging young people and youth leaders to book their place to come to the National Day of Prayer and Worship at Wembley Stadium, September 29, 2012. We stand united with other youth movements to encourage this generation to gather at Wembley to pray and worship together and then go back to their homes to do the stuff!

Mike Pilavachi, Soul Survivor

What the National Day of Prayer and Worship will do is actually bring us together and create unity. There is nothing more to stimulate and excite Christians than coming together in big numbers and having an opportunity of praising the Lord and praying together.

Gordon Pettie, Revelation TV, Trustee and Presenter

I'm really excited about the National Day of Prayer and Worship. It's amazing to think that Wembley stadium, which is normally full of thousands of football fans going crazy, will be full of the church of God worshipping Him. I passionately believe that when God's people unite around this theme that Jesus Christ is Lord it has a huge impact on the nation. So I encourage you to come and be a part of seeing God shake our nation and seeing revival break out.

Tim Hughes, Worship Leader and Songwriter

We are seeking to work alongside all national youth organisations, denominations and festivals to invite young people to be UNITED at Wembley. We believe that God has mandated us to carry a vision for revival and to call the youth of our nation to rise up to what God is calling them to at this time.

Phil Hulks, Cluster Development Director, Urban Saints.

Praying for each other and for the world goes right to the heart of the Christian faith. At Premier we are delighted to support the National Day of Prayer and Worship at Wembley this Autumn.

Peter Kerridge, Chief Executive, Premier Christian Media

The UK has a long history of prayer but somehow it's got lost in the ebb and flow of modern life, so we saw this as a really powerful way of bringing people together to pray and it felt like a good fit for what we do as a media organisation that's dedicated to creating life-changing content.

70-80,000 people praying together with one mind, one vision will be incredibly powerful.

Patrick Campbell, OHTV Creative Director

What CBC stands for is lifting up the name of Jesus in the media. The National Day of Prayer is such an event where this will happen and CBC is tremendously supportive of this initiative.

"It's very encouraging to see so many Christian media organisations who are seeing a Kingdom perspective by coming together to promote this and may it bring great glory to God.

Olave Snelling, CEO, Christian Broadcasting Council

...people from every tribe and nation, from right across Planet Earth, their hearts and faces turned towards God in prayer – this is a vision worth pursuing.

Phil Togwell, UK National Director, 24-7prayer

Having been involved for the last 3 years with sharing the vision of the National Day of Prayer across the UK, it is exciting to see the commitment and unity from Christians right across London who want to take the time to come and pray together for the needs of our nation and our world at this crucial time. It will be a day to remember!

Jane Holloway – World Prayer Centre

I am excited at that the Global Day of Prayer will secure effective spiritual transformation throughout the UK. Please bring your church community to Upton Park and join thousands of Christians in lifting our voices for God's blessing across the nations. Rev. Joel Edwards. (International Director for Micah Challenge)

I am delighted to give my backing to the fourth Global Day of Prayer. I was very pleased to host participants in last year's Day of Prayer at Downing St and since then I have followed the growing momentum of the movement with great interest.

Christians across Britain and the world will be coming together once again in a spirit of fellowship and social witness. By offering prayers for your communities and nations you are continuing a long-standing Christian tradition of prayer and action for the common good and I am pleased to send my best wishes and support.

Gordon Brown PM (2009)

I was very impressed by the professional and excellent delivery in diversity

I was very impressed by the professional and excellent service, in general, at the West Ham stadium event. KICC stand solidly behind the prophetic move that is bringing the Body of Christ together and establishing the Kingdom of God.

Pastor Mathew Ashimolowo, Senior Pastor, Kingsway International Christian Centre

It is very encouraging that our Churches across a wide spectrum of cultures and backgrounds are coming together at Pentecost to pray for London, its people and their needs. I would warmly encourage my brothers and sisters in the Catholic communities across London to join us at the West Ham Football Stadium so that we can witness to our Christian faith together in this remarkable way

The Rt Revd Bernard Longley, Archbishop of Birmingham

Don't miss out on this foretaste of heaven: 'there before me was a great multitude from every nation, tribe, people and language standing before the throne and in front of the Lamb'. Let's stand in the stands together. Be united at West Ham united. Kneel on sacred turf. And say the Lord's Prayer for our capital and our world.

The Rt Revd David Hawkins, Bishop of Barking, East London Chair Global Day of Prayer London

I am thrilled that you are able to join us at West Ham United for this vital prayer event. There is something powerful about God's people coming together to pray at such a strategic time as this.

Dr Hugh Osgood, President Churches in Communities International and Co-Chair Global Day of Prayer, London

The united prayer of the saints changes the destiny of a nation. As Senior Pastor of Jesus House, we stand shoulder to shoulder with the 24 hour prayer for London and the movement for unity organised by GDOP, London.

Pastor Agu Irukwu, Executive Chairman, Redeemed Christian Church of God (RCCG), United Kingdom.

“The important thing from today is that all the leaders go away with that determination to come to a new place in God themselves, to impact those they lead, so that when we come back in a year’s time people have already met with God. They won’t just be carrying the torch but they’ll become the torch and from a great prayer gathering here revival fire can go out all over the nation” said Colin Urquhart, Founder of Kingdom Faith.

Lyndon Bowring, Founder of CARE said: “Leaders are a stepping stone to congregations to the wider church in the UK. So if the leaders are on board their congregations will be led by them to bring tens of thousands I pray to Wembley Stadium in September 2012, the culmination of the Olympics to be the final word of thanksgiving and prayer for the nation.”

Eric Brown, Administrative Bishop of the New Testament Church of God for England & Wales said: “I think it will be a marvellous thing if the whole church community will come together and bow before the presence of God and invite His divine intervention in the affairs of this nation. I would like to invite everyone to join us in filling Wembley stadium and lift up a symphony of praise to Almighty God.”

It is with pleasure that I bring you greetings on the special day along with my good friend The Archbishop of Westminster, Cormac Murphy-O'Connor. The Global Day of Prayer is a unique united platform for prayers and peace....

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Archbishop Rowan Williams.
